

Welcome to Happy Christmas Polar Bear.

Please feel free to use these images in posters etc.

The bear is a toy bear, still in its packaging, maybe a sick inclusion, but also a comment on our preference to spend money on toys rather than dealing the real issue of global warming. If the polar bear was alive, he would try and turn time backwards and have a “renewable” Christmas which was more sustainable.

Perhaps....

most of my animations contain no words and the viewer is left to make up his/her own mind and just thinking about the topic is one of my aims.
